Ainvest Fintech Inc does not make any guarantee or other promise as to any results positive or negative from using Options+. Options+ is a combined service which has two main parts "Option Real-Time Quotes" and "Block Tracker". "Option Real-Time Quotes" offers you real-time options market data through OPRA and "Block Tracker" offers a market block order monitoring service, both of these products are provided solely for educational purposes, and users should conduct their own research before making any trading decisions based on either of these products.

Options trading involves significant risk and is not suitable for all investors. The value of options can be highly volatile, and investors may lose the entire premium paid for options contracts. Engaging in options trading requires a thorough understanding of the associated risks, including market fluctuations, time decay, and potential leverage effects. Before participating, you should carefully consider your investment objectives, financial situation, and risk tolerance. Past performance of options strategies does not guarantee future results. It is recommended that investors seek advice from a financial professional before trading options.

Please be aware that investing involves risk, and it is possible to lose your entire investment. Do not solely rely on the information provided by Option+ for investment decisions. To the maximum extent permitted by law, Ainvest Fintech disclaims any and all liability in the event any information, signal, opinions, analysis, and or recommendation proves to be inaccurate, incomplete, false, unreliable or results in any investment or other losses. Use the "Options+" product at your own risk.
